

Directors and Officers (D&O) Insurance - Product Summary

Overview: D&O Insurance provides essential protection for the personal assets of corporate directors and officers in the event they are sued for alleged wrongful acts while performing their duties for the organization. This insurance helps safeguard individuals from financial losses related to claims of mismanagement, errors, or omissions made in their capacity as corporate leaders.

Coverage Highlights:

1. Protection for Directors and Officers:

- Covers legal defense costs, settlements, and judgments arising from claims alleging wrongful acts such as breaches of fiduciary duty, misstatements, or failure to comply with regulations.

2. Company Reimbursement:

- In cases where the company indemnifies its directors and officers, the policy may reimburse the company for those payments.

3. Regulatory Investigations:

- Provides coverage for costs associated with investigations or proceedings by regulatory agencies, including legal defense expenses and fines or penalties where insurable by law.

4. Emergency Costs and Expenses

If in an emergency underwriters' written consent cannot reasonably be obtained before costs and expenses are incurred with respect to any claim, underwriters' shall provide retrospective approval for such costs and expenses up to 10 per cent (10%) of the limit of liability.

Are you ready to protect your organization's leadership from potential legal and financial risks?

Our Directors and Officers (D&O) Insurance offers comprehensive coverage to safeguard the personal assets of your board members and executives against claims of mismanagement, errors, and regulatory challenges. By filling out our straightforward questionnaire form, you'll enable us to craft a tailored insurance solution that meets your specific needs and risk profile. Don't leave your directors and officers exposed—complete the form today to receive a personalized offer and ensure peace of mind for your top leadership. Secure your future with our expert protection and focus on what you do best—driving your organization forward.